GEOPOLITICAL INTELLIGENCE

Understanding Cross-Cultural Risks and Opportunities

WHAT WE DO

As a leader in open-source intelligence (OSINT) for geopolitical and geostrategic issues in East Asia, Eastern Europe, the Middle East, Africa, and Latin America, we synthesize relevant information on political entities, government leadership, research institutes, university programs, criminal enterprises, and other actors vital to our nation, regional, and local interests.

CORE SERVICES

Global Political Threat Monitoring

We appraise covert, corrupt, and coercive overseas political activity, including tracking disinformation campaigns, targeted economic investments, networks of politically-directed operatives, key influencers in social media, and groups engaged in illicit activity.

Imagery Intelligence

We catalog publicly available images of organizations, logos, events, and individuals to disambiguate covert relationships between malign actors.

Network Identification

We track the public activities of questionable actors and organizations to contextualize their shared social, political, and financial interactions.

Supporting Democratic Resilience

We compose discrete case studies and comprehensive evaluations of foreign electoral integrity, environmental and regulatory investments, and human rights concerns worldwide.

Source Assessment

We evaluate domestic, international, English, and foreign language media sources ranging from official state- and Party-owned publications to informal social media accounts. By leveraging our deep familiarity with online and print newspapers, press statements, academic journals, radio stations, TV channels, and blogging platforms, we provide comprehensive evaluations of a given narrative's credibility.
